The visit through the hacienda starts with one of the most important attractions: The Machine House, where the henequen shredding was used to render fibers (SISAL) from the henequen plant. Then we continue the sightseeing to the sisal factory, where the plant is converted into distinct strands of what will become twine, rope or burlap bags.

After that, we board a wagon (truck) that is pulled by mules on narrow tracks through the henequen plantation to a Mayan hut, where you observe how the Mayan people used to live. Continuing to the natural well Zhul-Ha, with safe installations, stairway, wood handle, beautifully illuminated. Here you can swim in the clear, refreshing waters. Towels, goggles and safety jackets are provided.

Then we return to the hacienda, you will have time to enjoy the pool and the other installations of this marvelous building, such as the main house, restaurant and bar. Time for lunch.
